Onboarding Working Group

- There are some materials coming out that will be helpful for onboarding, such as the slides from Toyota and the case studies. I will be suggesting that we pull material from these to fill out gaps in our "journey" to conformance.
- Along with the journey description, I think we could also identify roles or touch points where OpenChain is perceived as adding most value. Basically, what audiences should we be trying to reach? (One contact from the Sonoma conference had suggested product management roles.)
